Sustainable food starts with a healthy Earth.

The California League of Conservation Voters works to elect environmental champions and hold legislators accountable to voters. Since 1972, we've helped pass laws that remove toxic chemicals from cosmetics and children's products, provide safe drinking water to all Californians, and reduce the harmful effects of pesticides, among many others. We track the performance of your representatives in Sacramento in our annual Scorecard. And our strength and effectiveness over four decades comes from the grassroots support of Californians like you.
